

ABOUT US

Whether in front of a jury or at the negotiating table, we've established a reputation for getting the job done. Founded in 1993, Ware, Jackson, Lee, O'Neill, Smith & Barrow, LLP focuses on client advocacy in a wide range of high-stakes litigation issues. We have extensive experience representing both companies and individuals as plaintiffs and defendants.

Our attorneys have proven track records in state and federal trial courts, appellate courts and international and domestic arbitrations. We have demonstrated success for our clients across a variety of industries, including: construction, insurance, oil and gas, environmental, telecommunications, financial and securities, manufacturing, medical, real estate, petrochemical, and transportation.

In an era when many attorneys never see the inside of a courtroom, we are proud of our considerable experience and success in trying cases to a jury verdict. And our deep courtroom insights mean that we know how to keep clients out of the courtroom when that's the goal.

Client goals are our focus; we listen intently and tailor strategies centered on our clients' unique needs. While the information and advice we give may not always be what they want to hear, it will always be what they need to know.

Whatever your situation, you can be confident that Ware, Jackson, Lee, O'Neill, Smith & Barrow, LLP is committed to your success.
